What our being a member of UK200Group means for your business...

Being a member of UK200Group, the leading members association in the UK of over 110 independent chartered accountants and now including lawyers, ensures the consistent delivery of a quality service and performance of the highest standard to our clients.

Established in 1986 the Group provides: a stringent quality review of their members' systems and procedures annually; access to a vast resource of knowledge, expertise and experience; updating in all the market and technical issues that affect businesses today.

This enables our firm to understand your business and its markets more definitively and to subsequently offer you more effective advice and support for start-ups, expansion, sustained profitability and business recovery.

We work not just for you, but with you

Enhancing Our Performance...

Quality Accreditation

The UK200Group marque means that our systems and procedures are of a very high standard. The UK200Group quality review is carried out annually and ensures a consistently efficient and effective service to our clients.

Being a member of UK200Group means achieving an enhanced status in both quality and performance which is recognised throughout the profession.

Networking opportunities

As a member of UK200Group, with over 110 firms and over 55 International Associates, there is vast opportunity to source the required specialist skills and expertise to provide the right solutions for our clients.

The lawyer membership offers the necessary specialist information and advice to accountants who require legal solutions to specific business matters.

Specialist Expertise

Members can develop and refine their specialist expertise through the Specialist Interest Groups of the UK200Group. These exist to provide a mechanism in training and consultancy for firms who wish to be updated in the issues and expand their knowledge of their particular fields. It also provides a resource for other members to tap into for information and assistance in meeting the specific needs of their clients.

The Special Interest Groups include: Tax, Corporate Finance, Forensic Accounting and Dispute Resolution, Business Strategy and an Insolvency Forum. Others include the market sectors of Agriculture, Healthcare, Charities, Legal and Property & Construction.

Adding More Value...

Business Partners

UK200Group selects business support partners who meet the criteria of relevance, experience, track record and cost effectiveness for the successful management and development of businesses. Working in partnership with UK200Group member firms, competitive packages are offered in financial services, investments, banking and finance.

International Partners

Our International Associates and The International Association of Practising Accountants (IAPA) which is the affiliated organisation of UK200Group, gives the members an effective international reach by affording access to over 250 accountants in 50 countries. With this connection member firms can confidently offer their clients a business advisory service that seamlessly extends internationally.
